After parking the car in the public car park in San Felice al Lago, we set off towards the start of our route.

At the end of the first unpaved section, we head out on a path on wooden planks.

The route now runs on a tiled surface.

Then it alternates between sections on tiles, wooden planks and paving stones.

We reach and pass a memorial on our right.

We continue on and reach a fence on the left side.

We walk along a 'trench' between the lake reeds and well-kept hedges.

Along the path that now opens out there is a bench.

Near a small bridge we reach another bench.

In this section we have to overcome a slight ascent that will take us to the level of the provincial road.

We reach the top of the climb and continue on our way.

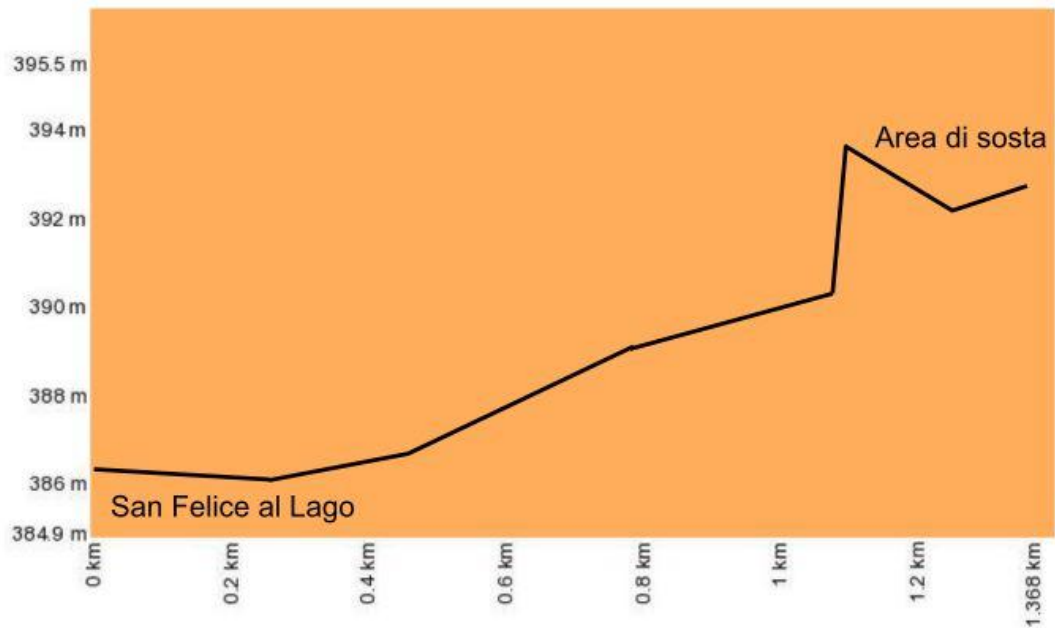

The path passes close to the provincial road, on slabs interspersed with grass, but it is well protected from the traffic.

We reach a rest area with Carp fishing Station 14, with benches and tables. Here our route ends; we are now close to the outskirts of Endine Gaiano and decide to return to the start.
